A Note From The Editor

We've just come back from a lovely warm long weekend in Pembrokeshire. We were very grateful and made the most by having fish and chips on the beach and a cider in the sunshine. It's not often we can say that about Wales. I can remember many childhood holidays in rainy Wales, being dragged round craft shops. It didn't matter if they were pottery or woollen mills – ten year old me didn't appreciate them at all!

It's amazing the difference that the weather makes. I'm fairly sure that the wet holidays outnumbered the sunny ones, but it's the beach days that I remember most.

This year's Village Fair will be held on 14th June and we have ordered good weather so I'm sure that the sun will shine!

There will be the usual array of stalls and refreshments and as usual we need a little bit of help. If you can spare an hour to help we'd be most grateful. For more details of how to help see later in the newsletter.

I followed up my April moany piece with a (hopefully) more upbeat article in May. I will try to strike a balance in future but always end on something uplifting or amusing. If you're feeling down you might want to cut straight to the last paragraphs!

We have a new County Councillor following the election poll on 1st May. Ian Cameron, the Green Party candidate, was elected by 23 votes. Our previous representative, Bernard Fisher, had decided to stand down. Bernard has been a good friend to Swindon Parish Council over the years. Ian attended our Parish Council meeting on 12th May to introduce himself and to start to get a handle on our local issues and priorities. A good start.

Ian's majority was 23 votes. The Runcorn by-election was even closer with just 6 votes separating the winner from the nearest competitor. Every vote is significant!

Once again we have been suffering from a mindless, attention seeking graffiti tagger. The bench in Old Mill Way has again been the target. Thank you to Sharon who has worked hard to remove it. If anyone has information about this person (who is also "busy" in town) please let us know.

The decrepit gates at the Village Hall have been replaced. I am hopeful that we will recoup the investment through a grant sponsored by outgoing County Councillor Bernard Fisher. If not, we will be able to use Community Infrastructure Levy funding (CIL).

A few words about CIL. When major developments take place, the local authorities can impose a charge on the developer (CIL) which raises money to support local infrastructure needs. By virtue of the housing developments that are taking place the character of both the area and, of course, the Parish Council, is changing. The size of the parish (in terms of electorate) may double. Areas of the parish that were farmland will become housing estates. A small Parish Council with yours truly as the single, part time employee may become a larger council with multiple employees. These changes will bring both opportunities and challenges.

There is a Community Governance Review underway at the moment. Ahead of a potential move to a unitary authority (replacing the County and Borough Councils) the review is seeking opinions about how the local government landscape should evolve. Swindon Parish Council needs to consider what its future should look like. Should we seek to embrace a bigger area? Should we look to reduce in size and focus purely on Swindon Village? Should we merge with other parishes? At the moment there are five parishes in Cheltenham. Large areas of the borough are unparished (notably the town centre and areas to the west like Hesters Way and Benhall).

Everyone, not just councils and councillors, is encouraged to submit their views. The web link below will describe the review and how you can participate.

<https://www.cheltenham.gov.uk/community-governance-review>

If you are not comfortable with an online survey you can obtain a paper copy at the Borough Council offices. It may also be available through libraries, but not the one in Quat Goose Lane bus shelter!

Swindon Parish Council

We have been plagued by the continuing road closures in our area and the knock on effects of others outside our boundary. Alison and Lynne of the Parish Council attended a meeting with Montel Civil Engineering. Montel has been appointed by Gloucestershire County Council as the main contractor for the delivery of Section 2 Phase 2 of the A435 Cheltenham to Bishop's Cleeve Cycleway. The works (on the cycleway and on the GWR bridge) will see this section of the A435 closed completely from 2nd June to 8th September 2025, followed by a northbound only closure from 8th September to 31st October 2025.

Alison and Lynne raised the concerns of the Parish Council and local residents. It is worth repeating their points in full.

1. The road and speed signs on Hyde lane need the vegetation cleared to ensure drivers are aware of the speeds on the road.
2. The road sign from Hyde Lane to Brockhampton Lane needs to be cleared to highlight this road is for the village only.
3. Brockhampton Lane is effectively a single track road and is used extensively by farm traffic and horse riders. It will be very dangerous if extra traffic uses this road. The Parish Council would like to request that additional road signage be put on the entrance to Brockhampton Lane to state that it must only be used for residents of Brockhampton Village.
4. The Swindon Village sign which is located on Hyde Lane on the right hand side near the 30 sign is completely hidden by the overgrown hedge. With the expected increased traffic it is critical that these signs are visible to make drivers aware they are coming onto a residential area.

The Parish Council has no direct influence on these matters but lobbies on behalf of us all.

Swindon Parish Council

There appears to be a breeding programme for rentable scooters. One was left outside our house. The next day there were two and recently we were up to seven.

What really gets my goat (he's moaning again) is the inconsiderate way in which these machines are abandoned. Normally it is in the middle of the pavement. Perhaps pushchairs should be fitted with bull bars to barge their way through.

Unfortunately the Annual Parish Meeting fell awkwardly this year in terms of advertising it in the Village News. It will take place in Swindon Village Community Hall at 7:30pm on Friday 30th May. By the time I had confirmed the hall it was too late to mention it in the May Village News and by the time you read this it may have happened. If that is the case you will have missed free pizza.

The book library in Quat Goose Lane has become a treasured resource but it is being compromised by random dumping of boxes of books, DVDs and jigsaws by possibly well meaning individuals. Please make any donations through the organiser, details in the bus shelter.

Swindon Parish Council

We bought a new toaster recently. Why am I telling you this? Two reasons. Firstly, what do we do with the old one now that the recycling centre has closed? Do I drive all the way to Stoke Orchard to dispose of it there? Do I put it in the green wheelie? Neither of these options is very green and I am not a fly tipper. Secondly, it has a “lift and look” feature which is life-changing. Thought you'd like to know.

Speaking of fly tipping, a man will have to pay more than £1,000 and do 120 hours of community service after he dumped an old shed and timber at Pope's Hill in the Forest of Dean. It's worth reporting these things!

RECTORY REFLECTIONS - REV JACQUELINE

This month we celebrate Pentecost – or Whit Sunday. This festival comes fifty days after Easter Day (derived from the Greek word for fiftieth) where Christians recall how God's Holy Spirit was given to the disciples after Jesus had ascended to heaven. Jesus had promised his followers after Easter that although they would not see him after his Ascension, they would be empowered through the Holy Spirit to guide and encourage them to continue spreading the good news of the Gospel all over the world.

Pentecost is seen as the birthday of the Church, when we give thanks for those first disciples and celebrate the crowds who were gathered in Jerusalem who were able to hear the disciples preaching in their own languages. Initially, they thought the disciples were all drunk at 9 o'clock in the morning! In our own churches across the North Cheltenham Team, we will celebrate Pentecost on 8th June, although I'm optimistic we won't be accused of drunkenness!

In our modern society, we feel a bit embarrassed to talk about the Holy Spirit, as if it is something to be ashamed of. But if we look closely, the Spirit is everywhere. It is in the kindness towards others who are less fortunate; I see it in the supermarket where people help strangers without being asked, I see the Spirit in those amongst us who work so hard to make our community a safe, clean and lovely place to live.

St. Lawrence's Church

The Holy Spirit is one who helps us, fortifies us and empowers us when life is difficult. We are not here to serve ourselves through inward-looking lives. We are designed to live in community, to look out for one another and to bring our own individual and unique gifts to share.

So I wonder what gifts you will share with your neighbours this month as we mark the half-way point of 2025? Be brave and encouraged, as the first disciples were 2000 years ago. Their legacy is still being talked about – what will people be saying about us?

Thy Kingdom Come is a global ecumenical prayer movement that invites Christians around the world to pray for more people to come to know Jesus. What started in 2016 as an invitation from the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to the Church of England has grown into an international and ecumenical call to prayer.

Using elements of The Lord's Prayer, the service of Compline will explore how God's Kingdom is at work within the North Cheltenham Team Ministry. If you are new to faith, exploring what it means to be a follower of Jesus Christ, or whether you pray regularly, we will focus on the prayer that Jesus taught us. We use this time between Ascension and Pentecost to explore our relationship with God and how we are individually called to become children of this kingdom.

The Swindon Village Society

Once a year the Society has an outing; sometimes a nature walk and sometimes a visit. This year we visited Stanton under the guidance of John Heathcott. Now I have known Stanton for many years as a pretty Cotswold village with an interesting church and a good pub. Well, seventeen of us made the visit and we are now much better informed. Stanton had been for many years just another of the string of villages at the base of the Cotswolds all owned by various abbeys. King Kenulf of Mercia had given Stanton to Winchcombe Abbey in the late 700s AD. It had then spent over a thousand years as a farming centre with a particular interest in sheep until it was bought whole and entire by Sir Phillip Stott in 1906. Sir Phillip was actually from Oldham. He was an architect who had designed most of the Cotton Mills in Oldham and many mills elsewhere in Lancashire, Yorkshire and across the world. In doing so he had become more than a little rich. So when he visited Stanton and found it a most delightful place he had no hesitation in buying it. He then brought it rather more up to date with the provision of electricity and a better water supply. Indeed, as you wander round you can see several of the light fittings of that time either standing alone or attached to buildings. As a result the place became rather more posh and an adjunct of Broadway.

Much later a lady called Mary Osborn established a charitable foundation there which concentrated on teaching youngsters various crafts such as woodworking and weaving. Her charity was supported by such as John Betjeman, J B Priestly and Enid Blyton. A large building has been constructed up past the pub to accommodate this activity. I had walked past this place several times and just thought it a large farm. Instead it is an educational charity of some note.

The Swindon Village Society

St Michaels Church is very fine and is the resting place of several of those who lived in the village and devoted themselves to charity. But also in one corner of an extra burial ground, a little distant from the church, is the grave of Sir Alexander Glen, KBE, DSC, Polar Medal who can be said to be the model for James Bond. He was an arctic explorer, pre war intelligence gatherer and undertook diplomatic work in the Balkans during the war. And he worked with Ian Fleming.

However, the thing that I find most touching about the church, are the several pews at the back. They were reserved for the shepherds who would come down from the hills on Sunday and were allowed to bring their dogs into the church. The dogs would have their leashes tied to the wooden end plates of the pews but since there were several dogs they would be pulling on their leashes and as a result they created deep wear marks in the wood. To my mind, you can't get much closer to real local history than to touch those grooves.

In late Victorian times something of an artistic colony established itself in Broadway. This included several American authors and writers. Included in the group was John Singer Sargeant, an artist. I have seen several of his portraits in London galleries such as The National Gallery and The Tate. He also painted some of the residents of Stanton including Eliza Wedgewood. Her portrait is in the Metropolitan, New York. Right now there is an exhibition of his work and of that of other members of the Broadway group on at the Museum and Art Gallery in Broadway. I can recommend it. It is on until 19th July.

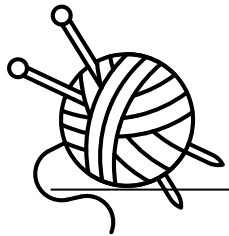

John Wesley was a regular visitor to Stanton. He preached in the church. He also courted the vicar's daughter, Sally Kirkham, but she turned him down.

Go grow with Dale

Hello Gardeners, Summer has come already! This month, I'm writing about something different, an event review, Gardening related of course, from RHS Malvern Spring Festival.

We attended on Friday 9th May, with this being our 4th Year in a row. Malvern showground is a fantastic location for this event, only a 30 minute drive from home and has excellent facilities for all ages. Of course, the main attractions are garden related, with hundreds of small nurseries selling both outdoor and houseplants. Every year we see something we've never seen before and usually come home with something we didn't expect to buy. This year we went with my Dad who was very pleased to get some new & unique Canna's and a Yucca I've never seen before.

The show gardens are always beautiful too, usually giving us some ideas to come home with and implement. This year, they even had Indoor show gardens for the first time ever, which had some stunning houseplant arrangements.. which was rather dangerous for my Wife, who seems to always find space for one more houseplant!

If you missed out, I'd highly recommend watching the BBC Gardeners World feature from the show from Friday 9th May broadcast. Overall and as you've probably guessed, I'd highly recommend this event to anyone and if next year is too long a wait, they also do an Autumn show at Malvern showground with a very similar layout.

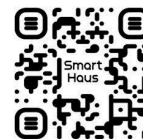

Thanks for reading.
Dale.
